29th International Film Festival Etiuda&Anima

29 November 2022 - 4 December 2022
Kijów Cinema, 34 Krasieńskiego Avenue

From a modest event presenting the achievements of film and art school students to an event of international character - this is how the history of the Etiuda&Anima festival, which will celebrate its jubilee next year, can be summarised. However, before it 'turns thirty,' its 29th edition is ahead of us. As the organisers promise, many surprises await the participants!

The International Film Festival Etiuda&Anima is the oldest film festival in Poland, confronting the achievements of students of film and art schools from all over the world and the acquis of artistic animation creators - professionals, students and independent filmmakers. The annual focal point of the event is two eponymous competitions with the following awards: the Golden, Silver and Bronze Dinosaurs and the Special Golden Dinosaur for the best film school of the festival in the student competition comprising feature and documentary short films; the Golden, Silver and Bronze Jabberwocky in the animation filmmakers' competition and the additional Special Golden Jabberwocky for the best-animated student etude of the festival. The Special Golden Dinosaur Award is also presented annually to an outstanding educator and, at the same time, an active and artistically successful artist.

80th Kraków Christmas Crib Competition

1 December 2022
Main Market Square

The Kraków custom of 'walking from house to house' with a nativity scene dates back to the 19th century. However, after World War I, it began to disappear slowly. To preserve the crib-making tradition for future generations, Jerzy Dobrzycki, head of the magistrate's propaganda department, organised the first Kraków Christmas Crib Competition in 1937. After the Second World War, the competitions were resumed and their organisation. The Museum of Kraków has undertaken its organisation and continues the tradition. The competition aims to preserve and develop Kraków's nativity scene tradition, whose effect - the Krakow crib - crystallised over several decades and has become a worldwide phenomenon of established international renown and popularity. The competition is of great importance for promoting and popularising this unique product of intangible heritage.

Every year on the first Thursday of December (this year on 1 December 2022), crib makers bring their works to the Main Square and place them on the steps of the Adam Mickiewicz Monument, where they can be admired from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. After the Kraków bugle call at noon, a procession of cribs sets off around the Main Market Square, preceded by a folk band from Bronowice, leading to the stage where the crib makers and their works are presented. The creators then take their works to the Krzysztofory Palace, where they will be judged by a jury of historians, ethnographers, art historians, architects and artists.

The uniqueness of the phenomenon is underlined by its inclusion on the National List of Intangible Cultural Heritage in 2014. In addition, since 2018, the tradition of making nativity scenes is the first entry from Poland on the UNESCO Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.

Cabaret Hrabi: Ariaci

7 December 2022

ICE Kraków Congress Centre, 17 Konopnickiej Street

Research shows that the statistical Pole goes to the opera once every 150 years. By going to the performance of Ariaci, you will have it behind you. Hrabi and Jakubiec prove that opera can be comprehensible, instructive, moving and funny.

Cabaret Hrabi is the essence of pure nonsense humour, and at the same time, probably the only Cabaret whose performances are sometimes attended by people who faint from laughing. They invariably entertain with a revealing look at male-female relationships, an unconventional approach to the challenges of everyday life and presenting ways to cope with adversity.

The programme's special guest is a world-famous opera singer, music lover and comedian. Endowed with an extraordinary sense of humour, he has combined the worlds of music and comedy for years. In performances from the borderline of a concert and cabaret, excellent music blends with brilliant humour, and the whole, in addition to a solid portion of purifying laughter, provides a few tears of emotion.

Glenn Miller Orchestra Its greatest HITS show!

15 December 2022

ICE Kraków Congress Centre, 17 Konopnickiej Street

The Glenn Miller Orchestra consists of some of the world's finest instrumentalists. The group's history is also rich as they performed with stars like Frank Sinatra, Johnny Desmond and Erik Delaney. Their prestigious performances feature the brilliant and precise sound of the instrumental section, quite like at the beginning of the last century - nostalgic and exciting.

In the original programme, the stage is thus transformed into a cradle of music from the early 1930s and 1940s. During the forthcoming tour, we will hear Glenn Miller's best-known works and the band's most recent albums. The show is to be noticed by jazz and swing fans and incurable romantics who want to return in time. Such hits as Moonlight Serenade, Ain't We Got Fun, Somewhere over the Rainbow, A String of Pearls, Little Brown Jug, At Last, You Made Me Love You, I've Got the World on a String, Sing Sing Sing, American Patrol, In the Mood, We'll Meet Again, Chattanooga Choo Choo and Pennsylvania 6-5000 will be presented.

Every musician or composer dreams of creating a distinctive sound immediately recognisable after just the first few bars - the Orchestra founder Glenn Miller's words hugely inspired Wil Salden. Almost 40 years ago, he was appointed to the prestigious position of chief conductor of the Orchestra in recognition of his many-year work and commitment.

'Nerwica natręctw' [The Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder] is a comedy that says a lot about each of us. First, we need someone who understands us to overcome our difficulties. And this understanding is easiest to find in people like you! The comedy, directed by Artur Barciś, is a crazy story full of situations that amuse to the point of tears.

New Year's Eve and New Year's Day showings of the play are a unique experience you cannot miss! Book your tickets now and enrich this extraordinary evening with a show in the Theatre Hall at the ICE Kraków Congress Hall.
