Loose-leaf | Served in a teapot

Golden Monkey – a tea from China's Yunnan province, known as the "land of eternal spring." This brew features a smooth, honey-peach flavor profile.

Epic Grey – a blend of Indian black teas, Assam and Darjeeling, infused with natural bergamot oil.

Fukamushi Japanese – this tea comes from the gardens of Makinohara, Japan. The leaves are deep-steamed, resulting in a sweeter tea with no bitterness.

Dragon Pearl Jasmine – green tea leaves harvested in early spring and hand-rolled into pearls.

White Yuzu – Pai Mu Tan white tea leaves with yuzu aroma; a fruit that combines the flavors of grapefruit, lemon, and mandarin.

Milky Oolong – a green oolong tea with a sweet, creamy flavor, which is derived from naturally occurring lactones in the tea leaves.

Awesome Fruit – a blend of dried elderberry, raspberry, blackcurrant, blueberry, strawberry, and apple pieces, with added hibiscus and rosehip.

Funky Guy – a sea buckthorn and orange infusion. Sea buckthorn berries contain an enormous amount of vitamin C.

BumbleBee – a Taiwanese oolong with peach aroma and rose petals. Lightly oxidized, it naturally carries scents of jasmine and gardenia, while the addition of peach aroma enhances its floral and fruity notes.
